NEXT WEEK--February 24, 1971

Roosevelt Hotel--Linn County Conservation Officer Orlan Handelman discussing Iowa's conservation and outdoor recreational achievements and plans. From a brochure entitled "Conservation is Our Business"---The Linn County Conservation Board was formed in 1958 following approval of 80% of the county voters; the twenty Linn County parks and conservation areas include some 4,400 acres of wilderness and recreational facilities with varying degrees of development.

LAST WEEK

The musical group, THE RANDOM SAMPLE, consisting of three young women and three young men (the fourth man had an appendectomy in Madison, Wisconsin) presented a fine sample and an enjoyable half hour of prose and music in a program said to be typical of the Youth for Christ programs they have presented before high school and college audiences throughout the country. It isn't the "ol' time religion" many of us are familiar with, but it certainly has an appeal all of its own. The bible stories are the same, but the words are those of the teenage generation. The program was designed to appeal to the young audience and help them find some meaningful goal in life--but weren't some of those songs with guitar, banjo and mandolin accompaniment, real toe-tappers?

VISITORS

Charles Cushing of Iowa Wesleyan, Mt. Pleasant--guest of Joe Stenner

Russ Landis--guest of Dick Landis

Bob Kelly of New Method Equipment (and new KIWANIAN)--guest of Al Gee

THE OLYMPICS/COMMITTEE REPORT

George Seyfer, Chairman of the Athletic Committee, took advantage of his scheduled 3-minute committee report to promote the INTER SERVICE CLUB OLYMPICS which begins Sunday, March 7. You might as well sign up for something voluntarily. George threatened that if you don't, the Athletic Committee members will be out looking for you. If you sign up early, you have your choice of activities. But if you just can't do nothin', George asks that you plan to attend the dinner. The Downtown KIWANIS will receive points for your just sittin' and eatin'.

AWARD

Dr. Clarence Fenner was awarded a Golden Rule in recognition of the lucid extemporaneous report he presented to the assemblage two weeks ago covering the achievements and plans of the Agriculture and Conservation Committee!
