ROOSEVELT HOTEL WEDNESDAYS 12:10 NOON

September 10, 1971
Vern Perry, Editor

THIS WEEK--September 15, 1971

Roosevelt Hotel--Representative Richard Radl, Lisbon, Iowa, speaking on "Timely Topics from the World of Politics and Business." Mr. Radl was born in Chicago but has lived in Lisbon since 1959 where he owns and operates The Illini Molded Plastics Company. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois; is married and has five children. Mr. Radl has been active on legislative committees concerned with appropriations, conservation, environment, government reorganization and others. The press makes him sound like an H. R. Gross. Will be interesting to meet and listen to Representative Radl, so we can judge for ourselves!

BOARD MEETING

Roosevelt Hotel--Tuesday noon, September 14, 1971. All present Officers, Board Members and Committee Chairmen and newly elected Officers and Board Members are encouraged to attend. The new Officers will take over the reins the first of October.

PICTURE TAKIN'

President Luhrs advises that there will be a delay in the picture taking for the Downtown KIWANIS' I.D. book. Photographer Jameson finds shooting pictures Wednesday noon isn't compatible with his Program Chairman activities. Come October 1--he will be relieved of his duty as host to the speaker-of-the-day and will grab his Hasselblad and draw a bead on those of us who have not previously "sat" for our I.D. picture.

LAST WEEK

About that "Spirit of '76 ..."----Dr. Craig Currie explained that school boards, school administrators and teachers throughout the country are carefully and thoughtfully reviewing and evaluating curriculum, teaching methods, procedures and budgets with a goal to formulate a program which will lead to more efficient use of the tax dollar. The timetable for implementation of the plan is our country's 200th anniversary.

So you think you have problems! Dr. Currie has to try to provide guidance for 25,000 students, the second largest school system in the state. And he often finds that parents refuse to accept their share of the responsibility for the raising of their children. These same parents can't understand why methods, procedures and challenges are different than when they were kids. Dr. Currie feels strongly that what was good enough for the parents is not good enough for their kids!

He feels that it is about time that parents, school administrators and teachers recognize that not every student should prepare to go to a 4-year college or university. It is no longer true (if it ever was) that Jon and Jane must go to college to adjust to, enjoy and succeed in the real life. He says that historically 60% to 70% of the Cedar Rapids high school graduates go to college--but often not for more than one year. Only about half of them are around to begin a second year of college. But they might have been excellent vocational school prospects. I'm convinced that many of the young people are forced to enter college, not because they so desire, but as a status symbol for their parents! (I'm jabbing you so you will give it some thought! The Perrys have two children who have been graduated from the U of Iowa and a third going into her third year at UNI. But I've been thinking. Yes, we pushed them that direction. Did we do right? I still don't know!)

A few bits left over--With each passing year, vocational education is getting more attention in the Cedar Rapids School System--the work-study program was started in 1968 with 15 students enrolled. Dr. Currie says he expects there will be over 300 this year. None of the CR schools is operated on an open campus (like college) basis at this time, but a parent-teacher committee is studying a proposal and open campus may be tried in the future. Attendance records are kept in all schools, but as in our day, the students find ways to beat the system. Discipline is still a problem and Mrs. Kelly no longer break a hardwood yardstick over Junior's head--she will be sued.

Dr. Currie said the courts have taken away practically all of the authority of the teachers and school administrators; there are currently seven suits pending against the school system and administration resulting from attempts to maintain order in the schools. Apparently being a teacher isn't a bed of roses. To quote Dr. Currie again--More parent concern and participation in the operation of the school systems is needed. The school must become a community center and include areas of interest for those who do not have children in school. It must be more than a 9 to 3 get-to-gether for the children and teachers. Even if Dr. Currie did sort-of hand us the ball and ask us to join the team, I enjoyed the way he put it to us!

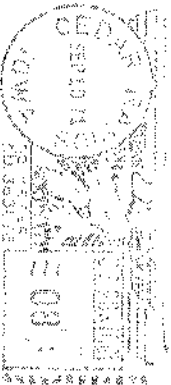

GUESTS - Russ Landis, guest of Dick Landis.

KIWANIANNE KICK-OFF: Understand the Downtown KIWANIANNES had their first meeting of the season last Wednesday--a luncheon meeting at the Gravelie's.
